

From the 1870s on, logging and lumber mills were a part of the way of life on Fidalgo Island: saw mills, shingle mills, box mills, lumber, pulp and plywood mills.

