Photographic Prints for Personal and Public Use (including research and educational uses)

Anacortes businesses often inquire about displaying images from the museum in their business. Credit information for the Anacortes Museum must appear prominently on the front or alongside of each local photograph displayed in a commercial establishment.

Larger prints for commercial use are available and priced according to size. Images supplied for oversize uses will incur a use fee. Contact the museum for more information.

When the Anacortes Museum supplies a photographic print to a customer, the customer only gets the print, not rights to reproduce it. Reproduction and publication require a separate request and fee.

1. The user agrees to abide by all regulations set forth and all state and federal copyright laws.
2. Publication of Anacortes Museum images requires a publication request. Written permission to exhibit, reproduce, re-sell, or publish photographic images must be requested and secured from the Anacortes Museum.
3. Prints of photographs for personal collections may be ordered and kept, but not used for any commercial or non-personal use without prior permission of the Anacortes Museum.
4. All photographic images obtained on temporary loan for exhibition must be returned upon completion of the single use. A replacement fee will be charged for any damage to an item on loan.
5. No alterations to photographs may be made without permission.
6. The Anacortes Museum must be given credit for all reproductions as follows: "Photograph Courtesy of the Anacortes Museum" and the name of the photographer, donor, and collection, if known.
7. The Anacortes Museum gives no exclusive rights to any photographer, author, publisher, or other party.
8. The Anacortes Museum reserves the right to limit the number of copies; to restrict the reproduction of rare or valuable material; to ensure reproductions are in good taste; to charge special fees for items requiring unusual difficulty in copying; and to charge a higher copying fee than specified for a small number of special items.

I have read and agree to adhere to all conditions, regulations and applicable laws concerning the use of photographic and archival materials from the Anacortes Museum.
